 - b) Analytical Cookies – files that are used for measuring the effectiveness of our marketing actions without identifying personal data of the users and for the purpose of improving the functioning of our website, including for the purpose of: researching statistics on the traffic on the website and verifying the source of traffic (the so-called redirections); detecting abuses in the traffic on the website (i.e. artificial web traffic – bots); measuring the effectiveness of the actions performed for the Data Controller i.e. on the Google advertising network, on third-party websites,
 - c) Functional Cookies – files that are used to remember the user settings on websites (background color, language, shopping cart). That way the users, after their first visit on a particular website and tailoring it to their preferences, don't have to configure the same settings when they visit a particular website again. This type of files in most cases is the permanent Cookies type,

- d) Marketing/advertising Cookies – files that are used to track the User's interests and preferences in order to tailor targeted advertisements. These files are installed on the User's end device. Targeted advertisements may be displayed on different websites in the browser by using remarketing. Not consenting to these Cookie files does not carry any negative effects on using the Website,
 - e) Social Cookies – Cookie files installed by placing links to specific social media. The purpose of installing these files is to make it possible for the Users to connect to their profiles registered on social media.
9. The user may delete Cookie files from their browser at any time.
